Carmel's fame as the home of writers, musicians and artists is directly associated with the house on Torres Street pictured above. The site of the dwelling was chosen for his home by George Sterling, a poet, who later persuaded artists and writers to move here after the San Francisco earthquake in 1906. Sterling sold his home to James Hopper, writer and member of the group which followed Sterling's lead. The house burned in 1924. Jimmie Hopper then built the dwelling above on the same site. Mr. and Mrs. John P. Gilbert bought it in 1937. Mr. Gilbert can be seen seated before the doorway at left. The upstairs room was where James Hopper wrote his short stories and novels.

Peninsula To Get Reference Library With Federal Funds

The city council last night, approved matters ranging from a $56,000 federal grant for library services to increasing the city clerk's petty cash fund from $25 to $50.

The two-year grant, under a joint powers agreement, will provide a reference library for all Peninsula cities except Seaside. This facility will be located in Monterey Public Library and will be administered by a board made up of a representative from each

When I was a lad my father taught
Certain fundamental rules that a boy should know:
I learned at school and I further sought
All the necessary things that were apposed.

But I always had to work to feed my face
Since working for a living was no disgrace.

And later on with a family
I was positively blessed with more mouths to feed,
Which brought that dull mediocrity
Of a little added effort to meet their need.

And the little kids I raised grew up and learned
That the only deal you got was what you earned.

Now times have changed, and the government
Has paternalistic programs for ev'ry ill;
No need to work or to show intent
To educate yourself in any trade or skill.

So just lay low and you rapidly will see
We'll all get fed, 'cause we're Anti-Poverty.

The board and bat workshop, above, was built by George Sterling, internationally known poet, in the early years of this century back of his home in the Eighty Acres. It still stands behind the Gilbert home.

A House On Torres Street Brought Fame To Carmel

In the last decade of the 19th century, a young poet, George Sterling, came to San Francisco from the East. He soon became a moving spirit of the group of artists and writers who gathered at Coppa's restaurant in the city's Montgomery block.

In 1905 he moved to Carmel then just a pine forest above a gleaming white beach with a cluster of frame business buildings on Ocean Avenue.

George Sterling tramped over the hills, swam in the breakers, explored the coves and canyons, and so it was that after the 1906 San Francisco earthquake, when most of his friends who formerly gathered at Coppa's were seeking a new place in which to settle, he extolled to them the beauty of Carmel. Many of them moved here and, as a result of their coming, Carmel became known as the home of a colony of artists and writers. With them George Sterling feasted, wrote and sang "The Abalone Song" on Carmel Beach.

George Sterling selected for the site of his own home, a wooded knoll above a deep canyon in the Eighty Acres at the foot of Torres Street. Here he built a rambling shingled home.

The fame of his house spread far. In it he entertained the literary lions of his era such as Jack London and Ambrose Bierce. Among these writers was James Hopper, who moved to Carmel at Sterling's urging after the earthquake and who bought George Sterling's house when he moved

Can Humble Oil Be Stopped By Referendum?

Last night, the city council directed City Attorney William Burleigh to undertake preliminary exploration of grounds for a referendum or other suitable action to stop Humble Oil and Refining Company from building and operating an oil refinery at Moss Landing.

Basis for this research will be that the Monterey County Board of Supervisors took legislative action, subject to referendum, when granting Humble Oil a special permit for the refinery on September 2.

Council Believes Arts Commission Can Aid Planners

Views and comments of arts commission members on business district building and site development plans may benefit the design review committee of the Carmel Planning Commission the city council decided last night, but not unanimously.

Mayor Herbert Blanks, a former planning commission chairman, and Councilman James C. Buffington Jr. opposed any intervention of an arts commission committee in the work of the planning commission. So did former Mayor Frank Putnam who also is a former planning commission chairman.

However, the decision last night in no way affects planning commission action. No consideration of plans will be delayed pending receipt of a report from an arts commission committee, and all reports must be in written form for the planning commission's consideration.

Mr. Burleigh told the council that members of the board of supervisors had said that they were taking legislative action. His preliminary explorations of possible grounds to halt Humble Oil should be completed by September 24, the date on which supervisors will consider conditions to be imposed on the permit which was approved last Friday, the council decided.

If Carmel finds valid grounds on which to base action to stop the refinery, other cities which opposed it may join in any blocking maneuver, the city council thinks. These cities are Monterey, Pacific Grove, Seaside, Soledad and King City.

In respect to this, Mayor Herbert Blanks asked Mr. Burleigh to prepare for him a report on any possible action before he meets with the mayors of other Monterey County cities a week from today.

Klenke Committee Asks Council To Suspend All Proposed Plans For Sunset, Also Civic Center

The Klenke Committee presented a petition to the city council last night, signed by 526 persons residing within the city limits, also 136 "taxpayers and other interested people living outside the city." The petition asks for public forums and a special election to clarify the issues arising from the proposed development by a non-profit group, Arts Inc., of a $5.5 million cultural center on the city-owned Sunset Center property.

The petition, presented by Carvel Baldwin, was accompanied by a letter. This communication stated, "Concerned citizens believe that the voters' and taxpayers' rights and wishes may be jeopardized in the imminent negotiations for the long-term lease (50 years at $1 a year) of the Sunset Community, Civic, Art and Cultural Center by a non-profit corporation."

"It is our contention that the lease of the Sunset site is contrary to the best interests, and the wishes of the citizens of Carmel."

"In our opinion, the citizens of Carmel bought the Sunset site for full community and civic use, and expected the city offices would be moved into the Sunset buildings on a permanent basis."

"We are also certain that the citizens of Carmel expected and wanted the city to retain direct control of and to administer the facilities."

The letter further emphasized that the petition indicated a wide opposition to the present course of city affairs.

"We hope that the size and strength of this informal poll will impress our city council with the necessity of suspending plans for city offices at Junipero (proposed civic center), suspending negotiations with any non-profit organization for the long-term lease of Sunset and suspending any other allied projects until such time as a clear majority vote of our citizens indicates to our council what it is we REALLY voted for in buying the Sunset property.

"Should the city council feel that this poll is inconclusive, we are prepared to continue our sign-up until the council is convinced of the rightness and fairness of our position," was the letter's ending. Signatures affixed to it were Marie B. Woolworth, Nell I. Orr, Wallace E. Doolittle, Jeanie C. Klenke, Dorothy Peacock, Carvel Baldwin, Anne C. Woolworth, Mai McGrury, Ethelinda M. James and Anita Wainwright.

Mayor Herbert Blanks set the October council meeting as the time for the petition to be considered and, on the instigation of Councilman James C. Buffington, asked that, in the meantime, a list of all Klenke Committee members be given to the council. Mr. Baldwin promised this will be done.

Decision Next Week On Dune Subdivision By Carmel Planners

On Wednesday, Carmel planning commissioners will receive land use committee reports and take action on four use permits requests on which public hearings were held August 25. These include subdividing the former Elizabeth McClung White sand dune property; establishing two half-lots into one building site on San Carlos Street below Thirteenth, also a similar situation on Monte Verde between Second and Fourth; and a third story underground parking facility for a motel on Junipero between Third and Fourth.

Jack Patterson is requesting a subdivision of the dune land north of Ocean Avenue into four building sites averaging 8,000 square feet in area. A site development plan prepared by Jon Konigshofer was shown to the commission by Mr. Patterson. The subdivision requested is bounded on the north by a deep gully and a stand of eucalyptus trees. On the ocean side it is screened from city-owned beach and dune land by cypresses and pines. On the east it borders an already developed portion of the "Sand and Sea" property fronting on San Antonio and owned by Mr. Patterson.

Commissioner Fred Keeble thought land use committee members should note in their report that the proposed subdivision, in 1963, was marked for greenbelt, and city acquisition, in the Carmel general plan.

On March 31, the city council decided to contact any prospective buyer of the White land, which was submitted for sale in probate court on April 2. The fact that the city "had a strong interest" in the undeveloped dune portion of the "Sand and Sea" area was to be told to any buyer, also the court, the council agreed, with Councilman Gunnar Norberg dissenting. He stated that the loss of 31,000 square feet of undeveloped sand dune was not "a great peril to the city."

The entire White property was sold to Mr. Patterson on April 9 for $246,000. The city had, at this time in its greenbelt acquisition fund $67,580. Suggested at the March special council meeting on the dune property, was the fact that scenic easements might, in effect, accomplish approximately the same result as public ownership of the land.

The establishment of the half-lots into one building site were requested by W. R. Junk on San Carlos and H. W. Dorsife on Monte Verde at the August 25 planning commission meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Vasconcellos asked permission to build a three-story section with parking underground on a steep slope as part of a 19-unit motel and shop development. They also requested a

How we look to others is always interesting. The Carmel Business Association has received a letter from Northville, Michigan.

"Northville is preparing to turn into an old fashioned center and we are using Carmel as a model," the communication states and requests that pertinent information be sent to Northville as soon as possible.

The business association sent along a brochure of general information about Carmel, which included the Mission, then referred the letter to the Pine Cone as Northville plans to do a feature article on Carmel. The Pine Cone's quandary is whether or not to send pictures and descriptions of the police station, council chambers and Sunset Center. They're old-fashioned, it's true; but they're also deteriorated and dilapidated. Northville might not have quite such developments in mind.

One aspect of Carmel that certainly can't be described as old-fashioned is the trash can on Scenic Drive at the south end of the beach. Some artistic soul could not stand, apparently, the unadorned state of most of the city's trash receptacles and so took brush in hand and decorated this particular one in colorful modern motif.

Latest poetic reports from Dorothy von Meier, chairman of the Carmel Planning Commission, emphasize she may have had a "cool" time on a round-the-world trip, but not weatherwise.

variance to allow building frontage on Junipero to be in excess of 80 feet.

Wells Fargo Bank was given permission to change the color of its new building on San Carlos south of Ocean. The metal sloping roof on the southerly portion of the building will be painted fawn color and blue-green tile trim will be eliminated. Floodlighting for the same building was approved except one 11-foot high standard lighting. Signs for the site were also approved.

H. R. Fonseca was given approval for work on a taxi stand on the west side of Junipero.

The "zone of interest" for a parking lot immediately south of the Carmel chapter house of the American Red Cross at the corner of Dolores and Eighth was set. Property owners on both sides of the street, in the entire Dolores block south of Eighth, also one-half of the block below Ninth, and 300 feet north of Eighth in the business district will be informed of the proposed rezoning by the city.

Two members of the canine world listened to deliberations of the Sunset Commission last month. One was Councilman Eben Whittlesey's Regan, the other was Commissioner Jean van Loben Sels' toy poodle, Luke. Neither seemed much bothered about future visions of a municipal cultural center. After a short while they both sought their own dreams in peaceful slumber.

Did you ever wonder what happened to all the earth that at one time must have filled the Grand Canyon?

Walter Dean, vice chairman of the Council of California Growers, says the removal of this dirt was "one of the greatest earth-moving jobs in the history of this planet."

Anyway, after millions of years, a mighty big pile of what used to fill the Grand Canyon is being farmed in California's Imperial Valley.

Classes In Fashion Design Are Offered

In the firm belief that a woman's opportunities for expressing her own imaginative talents are unlimited, Mrs. Madeline Dugger is conducting classes in fashion design, pattern making, cutting and fitting, sewing and tailoring, keeping the groups small for individual attention. With the advent of fascinating gadgets and simplified methods, according to Mrs. Dugger, sewing is easier, faster and more enjoyable and any woman can create clothes for herself which are distinctive and original—and, since she produces her own garments, monetary savings can be tremendous.

Mrs. Dugger, a fashion design graduate, has studied both European and American systems of dressmaking and utilizes what she believes to be the best features from each.

Further information about the fashion classes, held in the Sunset Terrace building on Mission and Eighth, may be obtained by phoning 624-9306 or by writing to P.O. Box 5926, Carmel.

Magazine Features Carmel Pet Shop

The cover of the July, 1965, edition of Pet Shop Management, trade magazine for the pet supply industry, carries a picture of the entrance to the Animal Kingdom Pet Shop of Carmel. Inside the issue is a feature article describing manager Gerald Strellner's unique experiment in unusual decor, display and store cleanliness, as well as customer service.

Soon after opening its doors, the Animal Kingdom, owned by Peggy Biddiccombe and Lois Williams of Carmel, conducted a customer survey to determine the most important factor bringing business to the store. "Our layout and display won hands down," states Mr. Strellner, who has continued to make the shop as sparkling and attractive as possible.

In addition to the sale of small animals and bathing and stripping facilities, the store stocks quality pet foods and sundries and offers help with pets' dietetic problems.

Rehearsals For 20th Symphony Season Start Monday With New And Many Returning Musicians

Today, in what used to be the faculty room in Sunset School typewriters are whirring. The telephone keeps up a steady crescendo. Opening and closing file drawers boom. The soprano voices of ladies hopeful of securing tickets vie with the calm baritone voices of Conductor John Gosling and business manager Colonel C. H. Du Val. The sign on the door reads "Monterey County Symphony Orchestra Association."

Preparations for the 1965-66 season of concerts in Carmel and Salinas are in full swing and Conductor Gosling announces the first full orchestra rehearsal will be held in Sunset auditorium on Monday at 7:30 p.m., with auditions, open to instrumentalists from all parts of Monterey County, at 7 p.m. the same evening.

Orchestra personnel director for four seasons, John Farr reports that, in addition to almost 100% of last season's 75 members reporting in for this season, there have been many requests for auditions and Mr. Gosling states that there will be openings in practically all instrument categories. Mr. Farr has been an instrumentalist with the symphony since 1947.

This year of 1965 is the symphony's 20th year of existence. Of the small group of friends that gathered in the early days, and who through two decades have returned to Sunset year after year to give their talent to music lovers, Lorell McCann of Salinas who shared honors as the orchestra's conductor with Clifford Anderson from 1947 to 1952, will head the group of "old timers" at the first rehearsal. Retired head of the Hartnell College music department, Dr. McCann is currently a member of the symphony's viola section. Fellow veterans returning for the coming season include Mrs. Marie Sales, viola, 20 years; Mrs.

Ronnie Cummings, violin, 13 years; Miss Sheila Webster, violin, 11 years; Mrs. Mary McAllister Smith, violin, 11 years; all of Carmel.

From Pacific Grove Mrs. Frances Warner, violin, 11 years; Edwin Culver, bass, ten years; Mrs. Elisabeth Du Val, violin, eight years; Mrs. Louise Vadetsky, cellist and symphony librarian, eight years; and Raymond Fabrizio, flutist, who will be heard as soloist in the first concert of the season, 11 years.

Traveling from Salinas for their very first rehearsal with the adult orchestra will be four talented young musicians, "graduates" from the symphony's youth orchestra. They are Pam Couthie, cello; Kandi Frost, violin; Kay Kingsley, cello, and Jane Kingsley, violin. A fifth youth orchestra star who will be present Monday evening will be Ben Hudson, violinist from Hollister.

Regatta Results

There was perfect sailing weather over the holiday weekend for the 35 Mercury boats contending in the annual Stillwater Labor Day Invitational Regatta, of which Dick Thompson, Peninsula Yacht Club, was over-all winner.

In second place for the three-race series was Doug Baird of Stillwater Y.C., skippering Lott Clark's sloop; third, Rob Gaestel of Merced; fourth, Tom Clark of Corinthian Y.C.; fifth, Pat Bradley of Fresno; sixth, Van Yates of Stillwater Y.C.

Following the final race on Monday, participants and spectators gathered at the Beach Club for the trophy presentations by A. G. "Tim" Michaud, president of Del Monte Properties. Jimmy Griffin of Tiburon, former Carmelite and one-time commodore of Stillwater Yacht Club, distributed the special souvenir glasses to regatta contestants.

Photography Exhibit Opens Monday At MPC

"Photography 65," a grouping of 34 photographic prints selected from 275 submitted by 18 California junior colleges, will be on exhibition at Monterey Peninsula College from Monday through September 24.

Twelve of the prints to be shown in the library lecture hall were submitted by MPC students, who also walked off with two first prizes and one "honorable mention."

One of the first prize winners was Regina Hicks of Carmel.

Other MPC student represented in the exhibition are Eileen Dufur, Carmel Valley; Bill Twibell and Barbara Litts of Carmel; Albertha McConnell of Pebble Beach.

Sponsor of the contest was Orange Coast College. Judges were Ansel Adams and Wynn Bullock, both of the Peninsula, and William LaRue of New York.

The show will be open to the public without charge during the library's regular hours — 8 a.m.-9:30 p.m.—Monday through Thursday, and 1-5 p.m. Sundays—except when a class is in session in the lecture hall.

'Art & Artists' Is Comprehensive Book On Local Painters

"Art & Artists" is the title of a directory of painters and sculptors, who exhibit in Monterey Peninsula galleries, compiled and edited by Lee Harbick. Galleries of the Peninsula area are also listed in this comprehensive volume which took nearly half a year to prepare.

An introduction by John Cunningham, president of the Carmel Art Association and head of the Carmel Art Institute, places Carmel as the definite art center of the West, both historically and today when, he claims, "actually more originality shows itself here than in big city art centers."

Charles S. Rogers has contributed an article "Heart of Art" to the publication. Almost 200 artists are listed in "Arts & Artists" along with photographs of most of them, biographical and background information, awards won and exhibitions in which their work has been included.

Reproductions of the art work of these artists are also included in the magazine-type directory which should prove most interesting to visitors to the Peninsula and as a reference for local residents.

More than anything else, "Arts & Artists" demonstrates that the Monterey Peninsula is an active art center no matter what some critics of certain styles of art may maintain.

Two pages are devoted to late artists who have brought renown to this area. Cost of the directory is $2.00 M.L.

Pine Needles . . .

Community Newcomer

Mr. and Mrs. Francesco Villarreal are the happy parents of a son, Jose Luis, who was born at Community Hospital on August 27.

To Study In East

Katherine Burkett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Burkett of Pebble Beach, will be among the members of the first freshman class to enroll this month on the new campus of Pine Manor Junior College in Chestnut Hill, Massachusetts. The 55-year-old liberal arts college for women was formerly located in nearby Wellesley.

A Girl For The Shoemakers

Tiny Heather Claire Shoemaker is still receiving special care at Community Hospital following her premature birth there on August 21. The new baby, a second generation Carmelite, is the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Jon Shoemaker. Her mother, the former Sandra Ammerman, was born here and attended Carmel schools.

Heather is the granddaughter of Mrs. Florence Reavis and of Fred Ammerman of Carmel. Her paternal grandparents, residents of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, are Mr. and Mrs. Claire Shoemaker. Other old Carmel family ties include two great aunts, Mrs. Kenneth Roberts and Mrs. Harold Aldrich and a great-uncle, Don Dawson of Reno.

Kathy Saw The Fair

Kathy Goodrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Goodrich, reports the New York World's Fair is "simply wonderful" and that she and Miss Pat Vincent, with whom she traveled, probably set a record in the number of attractions visited.

Enroute to the East, they saw the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City and stopped at Vernal, Utah, to examine the museum exhibits on dinosaur skeletons, also skirted the Great Lakes. In Albany, New York, Kathy visited her old friend Kathy Michaelson, who formerly lived in Carmel and attended local schools.

The travelers stayed in Connecticut for two weeks, then went to Virginia Beach, Virginia, where they were the guests of Miss Vincent's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Vincent. Sightseeing in the area, Kathy particularly enjoyed colonial Williamsburg and Jamestown.

Reddings Welcome Daughter

Mrs. John Van Dien, the former Diane Redding, arrived from Manila last week with her children, Laura and baby Roark, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Redding, who are back in their Carmel home after a month's absence. Later this month, the Reddings will take over their grandchildren while Diane flies to Hawaii to meet her husband. Together the Van Diens will spend some time in Carmel, travel to Detroit and visit John's family in Wisconsin. They hope to have additional time here before returning, in November, to Manila, where John is controller-treasurer for Chrysler International.

CHRISTIAN WOMEN'S CLUB

Mrs. Pauline Sexauer, director of Christian Counseling and Guidance Service of Oakland, will speak on "Focus on Life" at a luncheon meeting of the Christian Women's Club on Tuesday at 12 noon at the Spindrift restaurant in Monterey. The lecturer is well known in the San Francisco Bay Area for her counseling program.

Also on the program will be a discussion by Mr. Herzog of the Dan-Ro System of Rapid Reading and Mrs. Ned Holmgren of Carmel Valley, mezzo-soprano, who will entertain with vocal selections.

All women are invited to attend and may make reservations by phoning Mrs. Donald Hardy at 372-8973. Free baby-nursery care will be provided at the First Baptist Church, La Salle and Waring, Seaside.

School Board Names Committee To Study Financial Problems

The Citizens' Committee to study Financial Problems of the Carmel Unified School District was officially established last night when the board of trustees, with Clayton Neill Jr. and Steven Sassoon absent, approved a list of members compiled by trustees and the administration after several months of deliberation.

To meet for the first time as a body with the board on Wednesday are Mrs. Frank Bresk, F. K. Duhring, Louis Gardner, Douglas A. Graham, Mrs. Don E. Harrison Jr., Joseph McEldowney, Mrs. Carl E. Menneken, A. G. Michaud, John C. Sigourney, Mrs. James A. Smith, William K. Stewart, Mrs. Annette Z. Thorn, Kenneth S. Walker, Joseph S. Ward and Richard T. Wilsdon.

Superintendent Medill Bair commented that while the financial responsibilities and decisions are ultimately the board's, the district needs the committee's advice and appreciates the willingness of these citizens to serve the community.

The perpetual problems of safety and transportation confronted the board again last night, with parents from four different areas (and representing the three present school levels) requesting action, one in the form of a letter and others in person. A request, on the basis of safety alone, was received for transportation of kindergarten and first-graders from centrally-located former Sunset School.

A second, for traffic controls—involving both Middle and High school students—pertained to the hazards of crossing Highway One at Atherton and at Rio Road; additionally, it was stated, students walking to and from Middle School have no protected walkway. This applies, too, to high school pupils from Rancho Rio Vista and Carmel Knolls, whose parents asked that their children be allowed, when space is available, to board buses coming from Carmel Valley to the high school. Each parent emphasized that his concern, and that of his neighbors, was one of safety and not of transportation.

Mr. Bair, Assistant Superintendent Wayne Greenfield and board members acknowledged that the district has long been frustrated in attempts to obtain adequate controls—stop lights, or even stop signs, at dangerous intersection crossings and lowered speed limits—partly because of state law and partly because jurisdiction involves both state and county road authorities who have shown seeming indifference to the problem. The pleas and questions presented will be taken under study for possible multiple solutions to be presented at the board's next meeting on September 22.

In other action last night, the board approved American Seating Company's bid of $18,514 for renovation of science rooms at Middle and Tularcitos schools; a revised Carmelo School master plan; the Work Experience Education program at the high school.

A gratifying note was added by Mr. Bair with the announcements that the district is eligible to receive from the state, under provisions of 1964 legislation, approximately $5,000 for transportation expense to outlying areas; that insurance will cover complete replacement, in accordance with the district's and its engineers' specifications, of the portion of River School gutted by fire last Sunday (damage from the blaze, reported by the State Fire Marshal to have been caused by a malfunctioning electric clock, was estimated at $8,000). Also, that the summer recreation program, under the direction of William Wakefield, showed a decrease in expenditure from the budgeted $18,437 to $16,356.

In proposing items for future agendas, Mr. Bair's statement that the district is eligible for funds under the anti-poverty act was met with considerable surprise. The superintendent stated that there are a number of families in the district, with a total of 43 children, whose annual incomes are under $2,000 and suggested that the board study the question of these children's needs. Another suggestion presented by Mr. Bair was that the trustees consider requesting a federal grant from the Office of Education to continue the type of program, initiated this summer at River School, for in-service training of teachers.

Can Humble Oil Be Stopped By Referendum?

(Continued from Page One) allows construction of a refinery at Moss Landing and was granted following a 13-hour public hearing. Supervisors who voted for the permit were Warren Church of Watsonville, Arthur C. Atteridge of Salinas and Harold C. Henry of King City. Chairman Thomson J. Hudson of Point Lobos and Supervisor Beauford T. Anderson of Seaside cast negative votes. Both wished to prevent any possibility of added air pollution in the county.

The Committee for Clean Air led a valiant fight against the refinery permit which aroused more interest than any county issue in many, many years.

On July 28, following detailed discussion of 36 specific conditions controlling refinery operation, the Monterey County Planning Commission denied the special permit to Humble Oil by a one-vote margin. This decision was reversed by the supervisors last week, but the conditions will be considered week after next.

Agriculturists in the Salinas Valley joined the fight for clean air and will ask for controls to prevent smog damage to crops at the forthcoming meeting.

Despite agriculturists' opposition to the permit in his district, Supervisor Henry voted for the refinery. Supervisors Church and Atteridge favored the permit because tax income from the refinery will bring added school tax revenue to their district and will not be a burden to county water resources.

Peninsula To Get Reference Library With Federal Funds

(Continued from Page One) jurisdiction involved. No cost to any city will result. All residents of any of the cities will have access to the material which will be purchased and maintained entirely by federal funds.

The council approved a resolution for their next meeting which will eliminate the ten-minute use of truck loading zones by the public from noon to 6 p.m. on San Carlos and Dolores Street. This is a move to control double parking of trucks which is allowed by state law if adequate loading zones are not provided by the city. The council will also ask the League of California Cities to endeavor to have this law changed.

Also at their next meeting, the council will consider placing stop signs at Junipero and Third; intersections of Eighth and Dolores, Camino Real and Carmelo.

Limited time parking on both sides of Monte Verde between Ocean and Seventh, also both sides of Seventh between Monte Verde and Lincoln, was approved last night.

The council decided to reactivate the joint committee of the city council and planning commission on parking, with the addition of two Sunset commissioners, to study providing paid parking on the Sunset Center property to offset operating expenses of the facility.

The Monterey Peninsula chapter of the American Federation of Arts was granted the use of the Sunset kitchen and cafeteria for a workshop and storage at $100 a month on a month to month basis. Rental of the Sunset library to the Carmel Art Institute was approved.

Ordinances to eliminate municipal code conflicts with the new employee salary and classification plan and to make FM antennas meet requirements governing TV antennas were adopted.

Georgina Swan

Funeral services were held yesterday at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove, for Georgina Clark Swan, who died at her Carmel home last Thursday after a brief illness.

Born in Pontiac, Michigan, October 8, 1896, she was a local resident for the past 25 years.

Her husband, the late William D. Swan, died in 1960. Mrs. Swan leaves two sisters, Mrs. Tressa Pierce of Dearborn, Michigan, and Mrs. Edna Turner of Point Lambert, Ontario, Canada; two brothers, Harry Clark of Warren, Michigan and Roy Clark of Ypsilanti, Michigan, two half brothers, Earl and David Glassford of Michigan.

The Reverend Lawrence Whitfield of the Church of the Wayfarer officiated at the services, which were followed by inurnment in El Carmelo Cemetery Urn Garden. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Hoppers Brought News

During a recent visit here, Dr. and Mrs. James Hopper of Sausalito enjoyed seeing many of their old friends and sharing with them the news of the marriage of their oldest son, Jimmy (James Hopper III). The Hoppers had just returned from El Rito, New Mexico, where they met Jimmy's bride, the former Linda Allender of Denver, Colorado, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Allender of Denver. Jimmy is a partner in and the manager of an inn in the small New Mexico town. Since his parents' visit, he is also now the manager of a small ranch which Dr. Hopper fell in love with and bought while there.

Staff-Command Training

The sons of two local families are currently attending the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Purpose of the ten-month course is to provide officers with a working knowledge for wartime and peacetime duty as commanders and general staff officers of divisions and logistical commands.

Major James H. Phillips and Major Charles D. Phillips, sons of Major General James H. Phillips (USA ret.) and Mrs. Phillips, received their B.S. degrees from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point in 1951, and Charles holds an M.S. degree from the University of Southern California.

Attending the same course is Major Thomas McGregor, son of Colonel and Mrs. Thomas McGregor of Pebble Beach. Major Mc-

BUSINESS ASSOCIATION WATER BOND DISCUSSION

Next Thursday, members of the Carmel Business Association will hear speakers for and against the proposed bond issue for purchase of the California Water and Telephone Company's local water system.

The association's third quarterly meeting will be held at the Mission Ranch with a cocktail hour beginning at 6:30 p.m. followed by the dinner meeting at 7:30 p.m. Reservations may be made by phoning Rosemary Miller at 624-2930.

Gregor was graduated from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point in 1953, the University of Arizona in 1963 and the University of Texas in 1965.

Governor's Appointee

Governor Edmund G. Brown has reappointed James F. van Loben Sels of Carmel to the board of directors of the 7th District (Monterey County) Agricultural Association.

"He has worked diligently and conscientiously for the continual improvement of the Monterey County Fair," the governor said. "It is a pleasure to reappoint him."

Two-Day Event For Republican Women

The third quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the Northern Division, California Federation of Republican Women, will be held at the Mark Thomas Inn, Monterey, on September 20 and 21. Spencer Williams, attorney for Santa Clara County, will be the dinner speaker on September 20. The luncheon speaker on September 21 will be Robert Monagan, minority leader of the State Assembly. Both men are considered dynamic speakers with timely topics of interest to Republican women.

In addition, the usual workshops will be held on September 20 at 4 p.m., one on parliamentary procedure, under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Fisher, and one on "Our Flag—Its History and Meaning," by state flag chairman, Mrs. Peg Hands, and division flag chairman, Mrs. Julia Meyer.

Registration for one or all meetings is mandatory, and reservations for the dinner and luncheon must be made before September 13. Charge for the dinner at 7 p.m. on September 20 is $5.50; for the luncheon the following day at noon, $3.00. In Carmel reservations may be made by phoning Mrs. E. C. Cronwall (372-9026) or Mrs. Giles Short (624-6142).

Carmel Cooks Win Awards

A Carmel man, Merle Murphy, according to the awards list of the baked goods and confections division of the Monterey County Fair, is a person to be respected by all good cooks. He won four first places, also a second and a third.

Descyne McAravy was awarded one first, three second and three third places in the same category. Hetty Baxter was given a first and two seconds, Mrs. Florence Popoff, two firsts and a second; Mrs. Elsie Grandfield, a second and a third; and Norene Davis, a third.

Other Carmel winners were Patricia Jinishian, three firsts, three seconds and four thirds; Nancy Otter, a third.

Fair Award Winners

A Carmel resident, Mrs. Florence Popoff, won an impressive number of awards for clothing and household articles which she made and entered in the Monterey County Fair. She took 19 first places, 11 second places and 13 third places.

Miss Lois Watson won two first and one third place award in the same division. Mrs. Robert Thomas took a second and third award. Mrs. George Newman did the same. Mrs. Fred Sorri captured a second place and Miss Marguerite Sabel a third.

A New Assignment

Lieutenant Colonel Albert L. Kotzebue, who entered the Army in 1942 and was last stationed in Vietnam, was assigned as executive officer with the U.S. Army Command Information Unit, Washington, D.C., last month.

A 1941 graduate of Carmel High School, Colonel Kotzebue received his B.S. degree in 1958 from the University of Georgia and his M.S. degree in 1964 from the University of Wisconsin.

He is the son of Colonel Leon L. Kotzebue (USA ret.) of Pebble Beach and Mrs. Rose B. Hafer of Newark, Delaware. Colonel Kotzebue's wife, Kathleen, resides in Alexandria, Virginia.

The Sur Coast

By ELIZABETH FULLER JONES

CASTLE FARE

If you would like to make a Celestial Angel Food Maraschino, or a Hilltop Special dessert, a Cuesta Encantada Cake, Hollywood Soup or Jade Dip, you will find recipes for these, and many more, in a 94-page booklet made available by Donald Tosh and Dean Gowdy, concessionaires of Big Sur Lodge in Pfeiffer Big Sur State Park. Mr. Tosh and Mr. Gowdy also operate the concession at the Hearst Historical Monument at San Simeon and "Castle Fare" is a collection of recipes, menus and interesting information about the kitchen and dining areas of La Cuesta Encantada during the days that the "castle" was occupied by the late William Randolph Hearst.

The publication begins with a forward by William Randolph Hearst Jr., who says, "The cooking was, with exception of a very few dishes, just plain American home cooking. By this I don't mean Grandma Hearst or Mom did it themselves, but I do mean that there was a minimum of dishes done in a fancy French or Italian style."

The authors of "Castle Fare" are Marjorie Collard and Ann Rotanzi. Mrs. Rotanzi was a housekeeper for the Hearst Corporation and the Hearst family for a dozen years and on occasion served as hostess to groups of the Hearst friends. Contained in the book are a number of stories about those years, also illustrations showing the kitchen, dining and serving areas of the castle.

The authors of "Castle Fare" say that "cooking for Mr. Hearst was simplified by the variety of foods furnished by the ranch. There was always an adequate supply of fresh vegetables raised nearby and kept fresh in the four large walk-in vegetable coolers in the basement beneath the kitchen... Beef, domestic and wild chickens, guinea fowl, ring neck pheasant, partridge, quail, geese, etc. were available on the ranch as were a splendid variety of fruits and nuts." Fresh eggs and dairy products were delivered daily to The Enchanted Hill. Mr. Hearst and guests were never without the daily newspapers, for these, too, were delivered to the ranch each day. Every morning, at 3:00 a.m., an automobile left Los Angeles with the daily newspapers (and the evening film) and arrived by 11 a.m.

"NOT MAN APART"
"Not Man Apart," just released, is the tenth book in the Sierra Club's exhibit format series, and is about the Big Sur Coast. For this "series," the Sierra Club won the Carey-Thomas award in 1964 for the best achievement in creative publishing in the United States.

"Not Man Apart," is an extraordinary collection of 160 pages of color and black and white photographs of the Big Sur coast, done by such world renowned photographers as Edward Weston, Cole Weston, Ansel Adams, Wynn Bullock, William Garnett, Philip Hyde, Cedric Wright, Morley Baer, Steve Crouch and Jerry Lebeck.

Each page contains lines of the late poet, Robinson Jeffers of Carmel. The introduction to the book is by Big Sur resident, Mrs. Nathaniel Owings. For her work in conservation and allied concerns, Mrs. Owings was awarded a special citation by the National Audubon Society in 1963 and in that same year was appointed to the State Park Commission.

The cover jacket on "Not Man Apart" is a magnificent photograph (in color) entitled "Surf and Headlands" and was done by Cole Weston. It is a view of the coast taken from the Rocky Point area looking south to Point Sur. It contains these words of Robinson Jeffers... "the greatest beauty is organic wholeness, the wholeness of life and things, the divine beauty of the universe. Love that, not man apart from that..."

NEW SHOW AT COAST GALLERY

A new one-man show opens this weekend at Coast Gallery in Big Sur presenting the works of artist Rick Beck-Meyer. A public reception for the artist is being given by Curator Mrs. LaVerne Allen, on Saturday from 3-8 p.m. The show will hang through October 8.

Mr. Beck-Meyer's collection will mark the first showing at the Gallery of hard-edge and semi hard-edge abstractions. His favorite medium is water color and casein. Rick Beck-Meyer is a versatile artist — a painter, theatrical set designer and film art director. He did the set work for two recent local plays, "Tea House of the August Moon" and "Caesar." A number of the original renderings for these "sets" will be included at the show at Coast Gallery.

During the past 15 years, this

Huntington-Hartford Fellowship winner has had almost 100 shows and is a regular exhibitor at the Carmel Art Association. He is a member of the California Water Color Society and gained his formal art education at the School of Arts and Crafts in Oakland, a master's degree from San Jose State College and graduate work at UCLA.

Mr. Beck-Meyer, together with an associate, William Lewis, is also engaged in commercial art work. Helio Design is their company established in Monterey. Among the company's most recent commissions was the exterior decorations for the Monterey County Fair.

MPC Announces Fall Semester Evening Courses

An even hundred lower division academic and vocational college courses will be taught by over 80 instructors during the Fall, 1965, evening division semester, September 13 to January 28 at Monterey Peninsula College. Dr. Keith Merrill, MPC evening dean, announces.

Lower division offerings will include classes in the areas of anthropology, art, aviation, business, business data processing, chemistry, construction technology, dental assisting, distributive education, economics, electronics, engineering, English, fire science technology, foreign languages (Arabic, French, German, Japanese, Russian and Spanish), geography, geology, health, history, home economics, hotel-motel and restaurant management, journalism, landscape gardening and ornamental horticulture, mathematics, medical assisting, music, oceanography, philosophy, photography, police science, psychology, public service (conference leading), sociology, speech, and zoology.

Generally, classes will meet in the evening, with the exception of "twilight" classes in elementary French, German and Spanish, which will meet in the late afternoon to accommodate military dependents and others for whom the timing is necessary.

Credits earned at MPC are transferable to colleges and universities generally. Students working toward degrees, who are urged to select courses with great care, may consult with an evening division counselor who is on duty two nights a week. Appointments may be made by calling 375-9821.

There is no tuition fee, except for non-resident students. Registration has been scheduled for September 10, 7 to 9 p.m., and September 11, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., in the Armory on campus. Students must register before instruction begins on September 13.

Brochures listing all courses in detail, with times and places are available at the college.

Before Need Plan prevents hardships

Funeral costs often come when a family's emergency funds have already been spent on hospital and medical bills. A lingering illness may also have caused a loss in family income. You can prevent this hardship by making provisions for funeral expenses before the need arises. A phone call will arrange a private consultation without obligation.

WHY WE OPPOSE THE WATER BONDS

(SPECIAL ELECTION SEPTEMBER 28th)

Our organization whose membership numbers over 2500 citizens of the Monterey Peninsula is against the $17,500,000 water bond proposal of the Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District to take over the properties of the California Water and Telephone Company and the East Monterey Water Service for the following reasons:

- 1 If the bonds are approved we would have to make up the $250,000 per year in taxes now paid by the local water company from which the district, a political agency, is exempt. (This amounts to about 13 cents per one hundred dollars of assessed valuation or more than twice the county tax increase of this last year.)
- 2 The District has already borrowed $750,000 and spent $700,000 without direct authorization of the taxpayers. This amount has been 'dumped' into the $17,500,000 bond issue proposal for your approval after it has been spent.
- 3 This points up the broad, almost unlimited, power of the District to commit your money and tax you when, as and if they please.
- 4 We are asked to transfer control of our vital water supply from a well-run, investor-owned company with 83 years of local experience in the water business to a political agency with no background in water operations.
- 5 We would not have a fixed charge for water, controlled and approved by the California State Public Utilities Commission. The District could increase rates overnight merely by a resolution of its Board (four out of five of whom have been appointed). As it is now, rates can be increased only after lengthy public hearings at which all interested parties are heard.

William Bray

Funeral services for William Thomas (Cliff) Bray were held Tuesday morning in the Paul Funeral Chapel, Pacific Grove. Mr. Bray, whose death on Friday was attributed to suicide, had been in poor health in recent years.

He was a native of Butte, Montana, where he was born April 26, 1912.

During World War II, he served as a staff sergeant in the U.S. Army. For the past seven years he worked as a technician for Monterey Peninsula Cable Television.

Mr. Bray leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bray of Carmel. Interment took place in El Carmelo Cemetery, Pacific Grove.

Miss Winfree

Private services for Miss Theodosia Winfree, who died at her Carmel home last Thursday after a period of failing health, were held Friday at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove.

A resident of Carmel for the past 14 years, she was born in Spokane, Washington, October 9, 1907.

Miss Winfree was an active member of a number of organizations, including the Monterey County Symphony Guild, the Monterey History and Art Association, the World Affairs Council of Northern California, the Carmel Foundation and the National Federation of Republican Women. She was also a member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel.

There are no known survivors.

The Paul Mortuary was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Allene Grady

Funeral services for Mrs. Allene C. Grady, whose death occurred last Thursday following a heart attack, were held Saturday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove, with the Reverend David Hill of All Saints' Episcopal Church officiating.

Born in Pueblo, Colorado, January 11, 1891, Mrs. Grady was a resident of Carmel for the past 11 years. Prior to that, she and her husband, the late Paul Leo Grady, made their home in Pebble Beach for ten years, having moved to the Peninsula from Chicago.

She was a member of All Saints' Episcopal Church and of the Carmel Woman's Club.

Mrs. Grady leaves two sons, Lynn R. Grady of Woodland Hills and John P. Grady of Winter Park, Florida, and five grandchildren.

Interment took place in El Carmelo Cemetery Urn Garden. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to make memorial contributions may do so to the Community Hospital Building Fund, Box HH, Carmel.

MPVS MEETS TOMORROW

Members of the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services will vote upon allocation of proceeds from the Tombola Mart, to be held at the Monterey County Fairgrounds October 6, at a general meeting tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. at the Monterey U.S.O. Funds from the coming event, as well as from the garden tour, will be donated this year to the Visiting Nurse Association, the Cobalt Fund of Community Hospital and Handicapped Activities Unlimited Inc.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

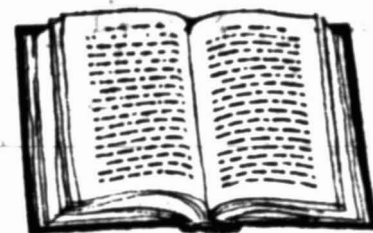

Christian Science churches will explore the subject of "Substance" this Sunday.

Passages to be considered from the Christian Science textbook will include these lines: "Mortals must look beyond fading, finite forms, if they would gain the true sense of things . . . when we realize that Life is Spirit, never in nor of matter, this understanding will expand into self-completeness, finding all in God, good, and needing no other consciousness" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 264.)

Bible passages will include verses from I Corinthians: "As it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God."

Art News

An exhibition of children's paintings from workshops conducted by the Monterey Peninsula chapter of the American Federation of Arts and the Lyceum is on display in the A.F.A. gallery on Lincoln Street south of Ocean Avenue.

Under the auspices of the A.F.A., a series of 10 workshops for children aged 6 to 12, were conducted by Jay Hannah, artist and member of the Carmel Art Association. The young artists are all residents of the Peninsula, including Carmel Valley. The best examples of their work were selected for the exhibition.

Virginia Blair Hannon, graduate of the Art Institute of Chicago, taught the children of the Lyceum group. Nominated by their teachers to participate in the workshops, these children ranged in age from 13 to 17.

Over 1,500 students have participated since the program began. The children are residents of the Peninsula and come from Marina in the north to Big Sur in the south and the Carmel Valley. The paintings hanging in the exhibition were chosen as the most representative examples.

The show will continue through September 30 and may be seen on weekdays from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 2 to 5 p.m.

The formal opening of the Laky Galleries in Ghirardelli Square, San Francisco, will be held today. This gallery will show contemporary Chinese paintings exclusively. During the past year, the Laky Galleries in Carmel featured similar painting during one exhibition period.

Mrs. Cora Foley of Orland, California, will exhibit sculpture, ceramics and paintings at the Carmel Foundation Town House during the month of September. The Town House, on Lincoln and Eighth, is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily from Monday through Friday.

A one-man show of paintings by Nell Walker Warner will be shown in the Beardsley Room of the Carmel Art Association Gallery on Dolores Street today through October 7.

The rest of the gallery will be given over to a new show of painting and sculpture by artist members of association.

Best of show award in the traditional art section of the Monterey County Fair was given to Richard Robertson for his oil.

"Nun's Shoes." In the modern division, Ben Bishop was selected as best-of-show winner for his graphic work, "Spanish Lady."

Other winners in the traditional division were, painting, second—Ralph Jacobs, "Classic Nude"; third—Eugene Baker, "Bracero's Cabin"; fourth—Fred Brooks, "Lighthouse."

Graphics winners were, first—Leslie Emery, "Tom Chimquay"; second—Anne L. Carlson, "Portrait Head"; third—Virginia Conroy, "Sheila"; fourth—Olof Dahlstrand, "Moss Landing."

Sculpture winners were, first—Randall E. Decker Jr., untitled bronze; second—Esther Karsner, "Portrait of Carl Sandburg at 57 Years of Age," a bronze; third—Nick Guastella, "Genesis"; fourth—Jim Fosnot, untitled.

In the modern art division painting awards went to, first—Andrea Spark, "Mesozoic"; second—Roland F. Hall, "Africa"; third—F. Houmann, untitled; fourth—Irene Love, "Rosa Alelicimica."

Graphic awards went to, second—Victor DiGesú, figure untitled; third—Gerald Wasserman, "Girl Meets Boy"; fourth—Rima Waldman, untitled.

Winners in the sculpture section were, first—Zane Paul Speiser, untitled metal; second—Louise James, "Sculpture Tool"; third—Virginia Gonzales, "Floral, 1965"; fourth—Isabel Tavernetti, "Keys."

On September 23, arrangements have been made by the A.F.A. chapter for a bus tour to San Francisco to see 31 paintings from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. William Cox of Pennsylvania which will be exhibited at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor. Included will be pictures by Corot, Degas, Monet, Renoir, Pissaro, Gauguin, Toulouse-Lautrec, Vuillard, Utrillo and "September Morn" by Chabas. Graphics by Marc Chagall will also be on exhibition as well as a special showing of classical ceramics, Chinese jades and ivories. Further information may be obtained by telephoning 624-2918.

Britten Opera At White Oaks Theatre

Tonight, at Carmel Valley's White Oaks Theatre the opera, "The Rape of Lucretia," by Benjamin Britten will open. First performed at Glyndebourne, England, during the summer festival of 1946, "The Rape of Lucretia" is based on one of the oldest and most famous of the Roman legends. In Elizabethan times it had appeared in dozens of forms, and one of William Shakespeare's most famous poems also relates this story of the seduction of Lucretia, wife of the Roman general Collatinus, by the Etruscan prince, Tarquinius.

For this production, Chris Nance, the Theatre's musical director and assistant director of opera at Louisiana State University, has assembled some of the finest young musical talents in the nation. Several of the cast members have come from a summer season at the Santa Fe Opera.

The opera, in English, will be performed tonight, tomorrow, Saturday, and Sunday evenings only, but adding to the musical feast will be a concert on Sunday afternoon featuring members of the opera's orchestra. This program will include Schubert's "Octet for Strings and Winds, Op. 166"; Prokofiev's "Quintet for Oboe, Clarinet, Violin, Viola and Bass, Op. 39"; and Hindemith's "Kammermusik, Op. 24, No. 1 for Twelve Solo Instruments."

re County Painting — 1965," a competitive show with three cash prizes of $300 each. In addition, a one-man show at the A.F.A. gallery will be awarded to one of the winners. An exhibition of work accepted for the competition will be held October 7-30.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

On Monday, the 20th day of September, 1965, at 10:00 o'clock A.M., in the lobby of the office of the COAST COUNTIES LAND TITLE COMPANY, 439 Tyler Street, in the City of Monterey, County of Monterey, State of California, COAST COUNTIES INVESTMENT COMPANY, as Trustee, will sell at Public Auction to the highest bidder for cash, in lawful money of the United States, the following described real property situate in the County of Monterey, State of California, and bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Lot 13, in Block O, as shown on Map of "Addition Number One to Carmel-By-The-Sea, Monterey County, Cal.", filed for record November 6, 1905 in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Monterey, State of California, in Volume 1 of Maps, "Cities and Towns", at page 45½.

Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the obligations secured by, and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain Deed of Trust, executed by FREDERICK MCKAY GODWIN, also known as FREDERICK M. GOD-

WIN, a married man as his separate property, as Trustor, to COAST COUNTIES INVESTMENT COMPANY, a California corporation, as Trustee, for the benefit and security of CARMEL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, dated December 4, 1963, and recorded January 16, 1964, in Reel 274, at Page 391, Official Records of Monterey County, California.

Notice of default of said obligation and election to sell said real property was recorded in the office of the County Recorder of said Monterey County on the 20th day of May, 1965, in Reel 406, at Page 607, Official Records of Monterey County, California. Nothing has been paid on account of the principal or interest on said loan subsequent to the filing of said Notice of Default.

This notice is given in compliance with the written application heretofore made on the Trustee by the said Beneficiary.

The owner and holder of the promissory note and the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust, or any other person may purchase at said sale.

ORDINANCE NO. 36 AN ORDINANCE FIXING THE CHARGE PAYABLE FOR CON- NECTING TO SANITARY DIS- TRICT SEWERS BEFORE AN- NEXATION OF LAND TO DIS- TRICT

WHEREAS, sewers and sewer appurtenances have been and will be constructed and installed by said district, and

WHEREAS, lands now outside the district will be annexed to the district and benefit by the use of said sewers and their appurtenances, and

WHEREAS, it is just and equitable that any lands which have not been assessed to pay the cost of sewers and sewer appurtenances, nor contributed to their cost, shall contribute to the cost thereof;

NOW, THEREFORE, the Board of the Carmel Sanitary District does ordain as follows:

Section 1: DEFINITIONS

REAL PROPERTY: Land that is improved or unimproved by dwellings.

DWELLING ACCESSORY: a subordinate building the use of which is incidental to that of a single family dwelling on the same building site, lot or parcel of land.

DWELLING, ONE FAMILY: a detached building designed for, or occupied by one family.

GARAGE, PRIVATE: An accessory building.

GUEST HOUSE: Detached living quarters of a permanent type of construction and without kitchen or kitchen equipment.

Section 2:

That the charge hereunder is separate and distinct from the contribution established by Ordinances 33 and 35 and is in addition thereto.

Section 3:

No real property may hereafter be annexed to the district and be permitted to connect to the sewers and appurtenances until charge therefor is paid.

Section 4:

The charge for annexation of said land shall be THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($300.00) for each building site as shown on subdivision map recorded in the County Recorder's office of Monterey County, California, or as shown on a tentative subdivision map where the land is in the process of being subdivided provided the area of said building site is less than one acre and further provided the improvements thereof, or allowed thereon by law, do not exceed a single family dwelling together with not more than two accessory buildings, only one of which may be a guest house.

Section 5:

If the aforesaid building site exceeds one acre in area, then the charge shall be made at the rate of THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($300.00) per acre.

Section 6:

If it is provided by law that the construction on the aforesaid building sites may exceed one single family dwelling and two accessory buildings, then the amount of charge shall be decided by the board of the district.

Section 7:

If the land to be annexed is not subdivided and is not in the process of being subdivided, and by law construction of improvements in the area to be annexed is limited to one single family dwelling and two accessory buildings per acre then the amount of the charge shall be THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($300.00) per acre.

Section 8:

If the land to be annexed is not subdivided and is not in the process of being subdivided and by law construction of improvements in the area to be annexed is not limited to one single family dwelling and two accessory buildings, then the amount of the charge shall be determined by the board.

Section 9:

If the land to be annexed is in the process of being rezoned then the charge shall be determined by the board.

Section 10:

Whenever land is divided or rezoned after annexation, hereafter, so that the burden of the sanitary sewage facilities is increased, then an additional charge is to be determined by the board.

Section 11:

The amount of the aforesaid annexation costs is to be paid the district before the annexation of the property by the district.

Section 12:

This ordinance does not include any amount due for the use of sewers (1) where the annexing landowner makes use of sewers installed pursuant to Ordinance 16 of the District, or (2) where the annexing landowner makes use of sewers that have been installed by landowners pursuant to contract with the Board of the District subject to reimbursement by subsequent users of the sewer.

Section 13:

This ordinance repeals all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

Section 14:

This ordinance shall be in full force and effect one week from the date of its publication.

Passed and adopted by the Board of the Carmel Sanitary District at a regular meeting this 7th day of September, 1965, by the following vote:

AYES, Members: Arnot, Fonseca, Pruitt, Shepard
NOES, Members: None

VERIFIED PETITION TO ALTER THE BOUNDARIES OF THE CARMEL SANITARY DISTRICT BY ANNEXATION OF OUTLYING TERRITORY IN THE SAME COUNTY AS SUCH SANITARY DISTRICT, AND IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE PROVISIONS OF THE SANITARY DISTRICT ACT OF 1923 AS AMENDED (Sections 6850 and Sections 6870-6881 inclusive, HEALTH AND SAFETY CODE)

The undersigned owners of real property represent to the Carmel Sanitary District and the members of the Board thereof as follows:

1. That they are the owners of real property in the contiguous territory proposed to be annexed and that said real property represents more than seventy-five percent (75%) of the total assessed valuation of the parcel of said contiguous territory hereinafter described, as shown by the last equalized assessment book of the County of Monterey, and that the boundaries of said contiguous territory are described in Exhibit "A" attached hereto and incorporated herein as though fully set forth. The point of beginning, as described in Exhibit "A", is on the District Boundary. Thence leaving said boundary from courses (1) through (31); thence along said boundary line, which is contiguous to courses (32) and (33) to the point of beginning.

2. That the total assessed value of the aforesaid described property as shown by the county assessment roll of March 1, 1965, as equalized, is as follows:

Land	$26,970.00
Improvements	640.00
Total	$27,610.00

3. That the territory proposed for annexation is not in any other Sanitary District.

4. That the Monterey County Local Agency Formation Commission approved the annexation of the area as approved by the Monterey County Boundary Commission with corrections on June 1st, 1965, known as the Rancho Rio Vista No. 4 Annex to the Carmel Sanitary District.

WHEREFORE, the Sanitary Board of the Carmel Sanitary District and the honorable members

Mrs. Pillsbury

Funeral services for Mrs. Genevieve Pillsbury, who died Sunday in a local hospital following a lengthy illness, were held this morning at All Saints' Episcopal Church, with the Reverend David Hill officiating.

A resident of Pebble Beach for the past 16 years, Mrs. Pillsbury was born Genevieve Day Hart in San Francisco on March 20, 1910. She was graduated from Miss Shinn's School on the San Francisco Peninsula and the Santa Barbara Girls School. With her husband, Taylor Pillsbury, she traveled extensively and also took an interest in his ranching operations near Hollister.

Mrs. Pillsbury, one of the founders of the San Francisco Peninsula Volunteers for the Stanford Convalescent Hospital, was vice president of the Casa Abrego Club in Monterey and a member of the Junior League of San Francisco.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Lyda Day Hart of Pebble Beach.

Friends who wish to make contributions in the memory of Mrs. Pillsbury may do so to the Cobalt Therapy Unit of the Community Hospital, Box HH, Carmel.

The Mission Mortuary was in charge of funeral arrangements.

CHURCHWOMEN MEET TUESDAY

The Churchwomen of All Saints' Episcopal Church will hold their first meeting of the 1965 Fall season on Tuesday in the church parish hall. Holy Communion will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. and the general meeting, beginning at 11 a.m., will be followed by luncheon and bridge.

Officers for the 1965-66 year are Mrs. Russell Padgham, president; Mrs. Gale Jacobsen, recording secretary; Miss Elizabeth White, finance chairman; Mrs. Fred Terman, program chairman. A baby-sitter will be available during the bridge luncheon meeting.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS MEET TONIGHT

The Monterey Peninsula Young Republicans announce that the program for their monthly meeting tonight will be a "double bill," beginning with a panel discussion on the subject "Is It Moral To Steal a Water Company?"

The second half of the program, titled "The Watts Revolt, Causes and Effects," will include a one-act play by members of the group, and a film strip in color, put out by the Republic Communications Corporation, of Torrance, California, entitled "Civil Rights, The Red Reconstruction?"

The public is invited to attend the meeting which will be held at 8 p.m., in the Estrada Adobe on Tyler Street, Monterey.

TOWN HOUSE PROGRAM

A program of piano duets will be presented at the Carmel Foundation Town House on Wednesday at 3 p.m. All interested persons are invited to attend.

TO SELECT FIRE CHIEF

Monday will be oral examination day for four applicants for the position of Carmel Fire Chief. As a result of written examinations these candidates were selected as outstanding applicants, Fire Commissioner Eben Whittlesey told the city council last night. Fire chiefs of neighboring Peninsula cities will be members of the examining board the four men will face next week. Following these examinations a new chief will be selected, Mr. Whittlesey predicted.

eration, the council decided. Councilman Stephen Grant, who approved the innovation, remarked that the council "expects mature conduct" in an experiment which will provide "greater depth of ideas in approving plans."

Councilman Eben Whittlesey emphasized that "if the experiment doesn't work out it can be terminated." He pointed out that the character of Carmel which the arts commission wishes to preserve by reviewing plans, in respect to suitability and appearance, "is a vague concept all of us believe in but none of us can define."

Mr. Buffington opposed the experiment on the grounds that the arts commission request to the council to be allowed to review plans was a direct criticism of the planning commission.

"I don't believe this is a proper step for the city council to take," he said.

Mayor Blanks stated that during his seven years on the planning commission he constantly heard that good taste cannot be legislated. He could not see that any "widening" of plan consideration was beneficial.

Mr. Putnam told the council that the experiment approved last night had the effect of "lowering the dignity of your planning commission."

The council in its 3-2 vote approved a report of its public welfare committee which said, "Since the aesthetics of design and site development are essentially subjective, the function of the planning commission in this field might be aided by bringing to bear the informed opinions of more individuals on these problems."

From now on, all construction and site development plans for the commercial district will be made available to an arts commission committee at the same time that they are made available to the design review committee of the planning commission and the arts commission committee will be promptly notified of the submission of plans to the design review committee.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel 624-3881.

Colonel Hazeltine

Colonel Charles Bellows Hazeltine (USA ret.), a well known resident of Carmel since World War II, died yesterday morning in a local hospital after a brief illness.

A descendant of pre-American Revolution settlers, Colonel Hazeltine was born in Belfast, Maine, on May 11, 1892.

Upon graduation from the U.S. Naval Academy, he transferred to the cavalry of the U.S. Army, from which he retired in 1946 after over 36 years of service. During his military career, he saw duty along the Mexican border from the Gulf of Mexico to the coast of California during the Mexican revolutions from 1912 to 1916. He also served in France in World War I and in Sicily, Italy and North Africa in World War II.

Colonel Hazeltine leaves his wife, Anne Flinn Hazeltine; a son, Colonel Charles B. Hazeltine Jr., now in Germany; two sisters, Mrs. Marian H. Shaw of Belfast, Maine and Mrs. Grace H. Heyward of St. Thomas, Virgin Islands; and three grandsons.

Funeral services for Colonel Hazeltine will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove, with Dr. Carleton Whitehead of the Church of Religious Science officiating. Inurnment will follow in El Carmelo Cemetery. The Paul Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to make memorial contributions may do so to Community Hospital Building Fund, Box HH, Carmel.

BEN UDIKE IS KIWANIS PRESIDENT

Ben Udiuke was elected president of the Carmel Kiwanis Club for 1966 at the organization's luncheon meeting last Thursday. Other officers chosen are Charles Dawson and Robert McIntire, first and second vice presidents; Nick Hackenberger, treasurer. Elected to the board of directors were Webster Donner, Ed Goodrick, Jack Belangee, Bob Connell, Judge Eugene Harrah, Harold Weston and Hal Reliford.

Letter To Editor

Editor
Carmel Pine Cone

Are we good neighbors?

In February, my husband and I drove down into Mexico by way of Nogales. We were not prepared for the extreme poverty and miserable living conditions of the Mexican people along that route, having never driven down before. So I am suggesting (for the tender-in-heart and good "diplomats") a few things that an auto traveler can take and give along that route—without even getting out of his car—for the people, walking or sitting everywhere, even in the deepest wilderness.

We didn't find a store until we got to the center of Guadalupe (Woolworth's)—which seemed like home and heaven in its order, cleanliness, and vast bounty of familiar supplies! So, then we could purchase small, plastic bags at last and fill them with soaps, candies, etc., to pass out to the poor along the way back to the United States. These people's courtesy and profound gratitude is pathetic and heartwarming, and makes one ashamed to be an idle sightseer only, in such a hapless country!

If anyone wants items such as those listed below, call me, for I save them for just such purposes. They are glass jars with lids; coffee cans; water bottles, pails (the Mexicans carry water great distances in battered and inadequate containers); rope; gunny sacks; newspapers (they have practically nothing to burn for their cooking); matches; "old" utensils and tools (some were bent over working in the rocky fields with small hand tools); canvas; plastic "sheets" or bags; cloth or rags; soap; sugar and salt; any canned or packaged foods (peanuts were easy to toss, in bags, to the chil-

PROBABLY THE PRETTIEST HOME IN THE COUNTRY CLUB

In this price range, and it's the beauty of quiet good taste in architecture, in decorating, in landscaping, and all in a naturally beautiful forest setting very convenient to the golf course. It's a quiet sort of home with its soft color schemes, enchanting enclosed entry, delightful bedrooms and baths—2 of each—charming fireplace. If you are "particular" don't fail to see this fine home priced at only $45,000.

HAPPILY, THAT HANDSOME HOME

you've admired so much while driving down Sunridge Road—the one with the used-brick exterior, shake roof, and the great Pt. Lobos View—is on the market, and at a price you can really afford in Pebble Beach. In its eight years it has been meticulously maintained and its garden has become a beautiful delight. 2 bedrooms and study, a full dining room, carpeted and draped, available for immediate possession, and the price is just $59,500.

THE CHARM OF COMPLETE COMMITMENT TO THE CARMEL CHARACTER

This is the satisfying accomplishment in rebuilding a lovely older home in a quality kind of way. Just off the beach on San Antonio, and a quick little walk up Ocean Avenue to the Village, yet once inside its walled courtyard you experience a delightful ambience and welcome the complete privacy. Luxury is the keynote in the 3 bedroom 3 bath interior with one of the nicest new kitchens we've seen. The 40 ft. living room has full glass walls opening to a deck and, of course, it's all VIEW. On two lots, this Carmel gem is $84,000. Two additional lots are also available at additional price.

CARMEL'S BEST BUYS

LOCATION — SUNNY HATTON FIELDS — Beautiful view of Pt. Lobos. Three bedrooms, 2½ baths, a full dining room, large beautiful living room, large kitchen with separate breakfast room. Nicely landscaped. Sprinkler system. $44,500.

IT IS HARD TO FIND a better quality home than this, for $45,000, considering location, view, and walking distance to downtown Carmel. This 2 bedroom 2 bath home, plus a den, located near Santa Lucia on Monte Verde, is new, and excellent terms can be arranged.

ANOTHER GOOD BUY, is a brand new home on the quiet little street of Palou near 2nd. This quality home has everything necessary for comfortable living. It has 2 bedrooms and 2 baths, a full dining room, walnut paneling in the living room, and wall to wall carpeting throughout. The price is only $42,500, and can be seen anytime, we have the key.

THE ONLY LOT we know of at the price of $9,000, and worth more. It is located in Mission Fields.

FOR $30,000 we will more than compare this 3 bedroom two bath home located at First and Guadalupe, with anything in Carmel at the same price.

JUST AN ORDINARY 40 x 100 lot in Carmel, but the location makes it worth the asking price of $14,500.00.

IF IT IS CLOSE to downtown Carmel (two blocks) that you want to be, we can show you a 3 bedroom 2 bath home, with a 2 car garage for only $32,500. No steep hills to climb.

THE LAST LOT sold in a comparable area to this one, was $20,000. We are offering this lot (2 blocks from Ocean Avenue) for $15,000. Terms.

NEAR THE MISSION on Dolores St. Three bedrooms, three baths and studio only a year old. A most unusual and beautiful home on a large lot with some Ocean view and loaded with charm. $57,500.

House On Torres Street Brought Fame To Carmel

back to San Francisco in 1915. By this time Sterling was an internationally known poet.

The Hopper house, as it then became known, continued as a center of hospitality for artists and writers. Sinclair Lewis was a guest there, also Grace McGowan Cooke, Theodore Dreiser, Mary Austin, Harry Leon Wilson, Frank Norris, Mabel Dodge Luhan, Lewis Gannett, Frazier Hunt and Stewart Edward White.

In 1924, the Hopper house burned. James Hopper rebuilt on the site and the new house was the home of his family, consisting of his wife, Mattie, and their four children, Elizabeth, Maryan, James Jr. and Jane, for many years.

Following the death of Mrs. Hopper, Jimmie rented his house to Mr. and Mrs. John P. Gilbert. In 1937, they bought the Hopper home and the former Sterling property and in this dwelling the Gilberts' daughters, Cynthia and Elizabeth, grew up.

Cynthia Gilbert, now Mrs. Wallace Quimby of Huntington, Long Island, was so imbued with the literary history of her home that she did extensive research on George Sterling and made him the subject of a thesis for a master's degree from Columbia University.

When George Sterling died in 1926, his funeral was conducted by the Bohemian Club of San Francisco, of which he was one of the original members. His eulogy was read by former Senator James D. Phelan.

Many were the tributes paid to George Sterling following his death. H. L. Mencken, and Gouverneur Morris were in San Francisco to visit him when he presumably took his own life.

Mr. Mencken said, "I have lost a good friend and America has lost a good poet. In his death the world has lost one of the few men of letters who have never yielded to present day fashions: he always adhered to classical traditions. He was the connecting link with past generations, he was always picturesque and charming; to Easterners he was San Francisco's best known citizen."

Robinson Jeffers paid tribute to "the splendor of his poetic genius." Of George Sterling he wrote in the November 19, 1926, issue of the Pine Cone as follows: "There is not a cliff or canyon on our Carmel coast but will hold memories of him: he knew and loved them all intimately."

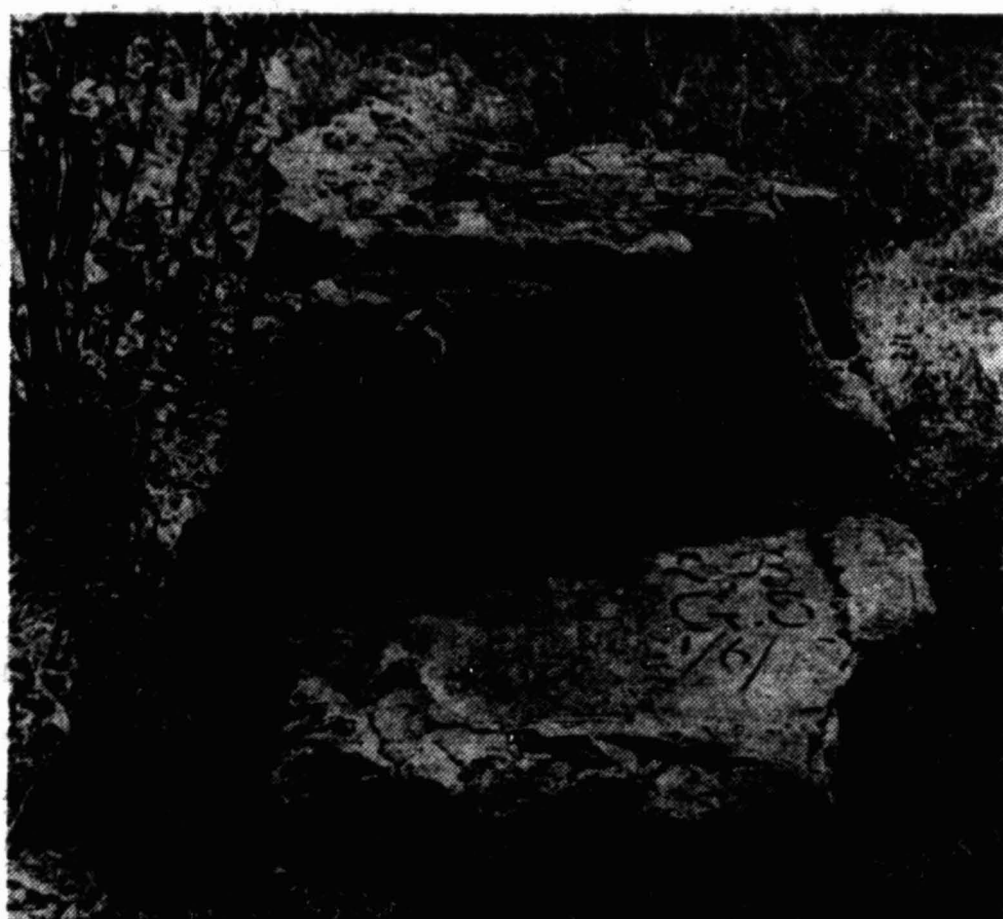

Herbert Heron noted that "George Sterling 'loved all Carmel and knew the outdoors well.'"

The hills, coves and canyons were just as beloved to James Hopper who bought the Sterling home. For years he went far beyond the breakers on his daily swim off Carmel Beach.

James Hopper was a graduate of the University of California where he was a member of the football team that first stole the Stanford axe and so established a tradition. He later coached the Cal team, and was a newspaperman in San Francisco before the earthquake. During World War I he was war correspondent for Collier's magazine. He published many short stories in national magazines and a number of books and was head of the state's WPA Writer's project which compiled the "Guide to California," also president of the Authors' Guild of the Authors' League of America. His writing has been collected by the University of California to be preserved for posterity in the Bancroft Library. He died in Carmel in 1956.

Both George Sterling and James Hopper were lustrous figures in the American literary world. Both brought fame to Carmel.

Tall pines and spreading oaks still guard the knoll where they lived and the memory of these two writers is cherished by Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert who live on the land both loved, and in the home one built . . . and the house, as

The barbecue above was built by George Sterling in 1915 on the wooded knoll backed by a deep canyon on Torres Street which he chose as the site of his home. His initials, and those of the friends who helped him cement the stones, can be seen. The barbecue still stands on the Gilbert property.

New Creative Art Form For Forest Theater Free Performance On Sunday

"Versymphony," a new creative transcription form, will be given its public premiere here Sunday afternoon when the Carmel Arts Commission concludes its current summer series at the city's outdoor Forest Theater. The program will begin at 2 p.m. and admission is free.

"Versymphony" is a novel and exciting combination of excerpted lines from the poetry of the late Robinson Jeffers and portions of two symphonic poems composed by the late Gaston Usigli, who for 14 years conducted the Carmel Bach Festival.

The two symphonic compositions — "Prometheus Unbound" and "Humanitas" — are authoritatively blended with poetic readings on a single sound track to evoke vivid images of the dramatic Point Lobos and Big Sur coastlines in a penetrating form described as "the mind's eye gallery." "Versymphony" is in preparation for early release by Fantasy Records.

The new image-and-emotion-provoking creative form, which "Versymphony" represents, has been evolved essentially by Mary Louise Schneeberger of Carmel after years of intensive experimentation. Interesting coincidence in this connection, is that Warren Johnston, another Carmel resident, was quite independently conducting experimentation along lines similar to those of Mrs. Schneeberger. The two innovators — with veteran actor, Lloyd Jenkins, as narrator — have joined their artistic and technical talents to produce the extraordinary "Versymphony."

Mr. Jenkins has had extensive experience on the legitimate stage, in television and motion pictures.

always, is a center of warm and gracious hospitality.

He was at one time a member of the Charles Laughton Players, and he has frequently appeared in local little theatre productions.

Carmel's Forest Theater stage, framed by stately pines, visually supplements the power and the magic of the creative essence which "Versymphony" conveys to its listeners, and which otherwise Mrs. Schneeberger suggests by means of deftly co-ordinated sequences of paintings and of photography.

Use of Mr. Jeffers' poetry has been authorized by Random House, and his son, Donnan Jeffers. The Usigli compositions have been used by special permission.

Mike Noon Captures Capacity Audience

To describe Mike Noon's performance is a little like trying to tell someone how to tie a necktie without using one's hands. Whether his air of casualness and zany improvisation is studied matters not. Accompanying himself on banjo and guitar, he captures his audience with a beguiling grin, refreshing patter and humor which is wry without ever becoming vulgar or overly abrasive. With this, his slight, husky voice alternates with "straight" songs, tastefully chosen and often throat-catching.

If Mike Noon is destined for the "big time," which seems likely, his Peninsula fans who filled the Circle Theatre September 1 will be torn between feelings of vicarious triumph and regret over losing this engaging young entertainer from the local scene. They will have another chance to hear him present new material on September 21, when he will again appear at the Circle Theatre. J.V.
